November 21st 2010: THE SOLEMNITY OF CHRIST THE KING

THE KINGSHIP OF CHRIST CRUCIFIED

A defeated King is a sorry spectacle. Very often in history a King defeated in battle is mocked and humiliated by his foes, before being maimed or, more usually, killed.

The Evangelists tell us that at the crucifixion, Our Lord was bitterly taunted by the Chief Priests and the leaders of the people on account of His claim to be a King. In today's Gospel reading, for instance, St. Luke tells us that the soldiers joined in with this spirit of mockery, saying, "If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself!"

Pilate even had written out on Our Lord's Cross the title "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews". In the only truly decisive action he took in the entire process of Our Lord's trial and condemnation, Pilate said to the Chief Priests who refused to acknowledge Christ's kingship, "What I have written, I have written!"

Exactly why Pilate insisted on this title, "King of the Jews", we do not know for certain. It seems possible, however, that he may have had at least two quite different reasons in mind. One was not so much to humiliate Christ, as those who had had Him condemned to death. "Here is your King!" Pilate had said as he presented the scourged Christ to the Chief Priests and the people—a fitting King for people such as you, he might have thought—covered with blood and wrapped in a purple robe. Purple was indeed the colour of kingship, but it was put on Jesus then by the Roman soldiers in sheer mockery of His claim to be King of the Jews.

We do know that Pilate was also genuinely worried by his decision to allow the crucifixion to go ahead. His wife had already urgently warned him to have nothing to do with that "just man", and, as St. John tells us, in private conversation he was struck by Jesus's quiet dignity and awesome majesty even in the midst of terrible suffering. This, too, may have influenced Pilate's determination to emphasise Jesus's kingship when he finally gave way to the Chief Priests and allowed them to have Christ crucified.

And yet, despite the mockery and torture, Our Lord remained majestic on the cross. He prayed for His executioners and forgave His enemies. He also showed His Kingship in His gracious recognition of the Good Thief's prayer, "Jesus remember me when you come into your kingdom", by answering him, "Truly I say to you, this day you will be with Me in Paradise". From this we learn what kind of King Our Lord is. He does not impose His authority on anyone, but invites us instead to recognise how willingly He lays down His life for His people.

On this Sunday we pray especially for all young people, that they may recognise Christ as their King, and acknowledge His rule over their lives. For Jesus tells us that He is "gentle and humble of heart", and He commands us with authority, yet without compulsion, freely to learn to be like Him.

St Cecilia (3rd c) There are few facts about her. She was a noblewoman who was martyred and is buried in a beautiful Basilica, named after her in Trastevere, thought to be on the site of a church which she had founded. She is also believed to have written a poem Passio in which she speaks of singing to God 'in her heart', and hence, she is the patron saint of music. She is commemorated in our church in a niche above St Philip's shrine, appropriately placed as he was himself a great lover of music. (The 'Oratory' giving us the word 'Oratorio').

Tuesday 23rd November: FERIA. (Green) Optional memorias of St Clement I, Pope & Martyr. (Red); or of St Columban, Abbot. (White)

- Holy Hour 8 a.m. – 9 a.m. ? Rosary after 12.45 and 5.45 Mass

St Clement (1st c.) He was one of the early successors to St Peter, and probably knew him and St Paul. He wrote an important Epistle to the Church at Corinth, which is very early evidence of the Pope's role as arbiter of disputes in the universal Church. He is thought to have been arrested and forced to work in the marble quarries but due to his success in gaining converts there, he was sentenced to death and so martyred by being lashed to an anchor, which is why there are so many marine dedications to him.

St Columban (c. 540-615) A monk from Ireland, he founded abbeys in England, France, and Italy under the strict rule prevalent in Ireland. He suffered greatly for his work, coming into conflict with civil and religious authorities, mainly due to his denunciations of immorality and lax bishops but he exerted a lasting influence on Western civilisation.

Wednesday 24th November: St Andrew Dung-Lac and Companions, Martyrs. Memoria. (Red)

- Holy Hour 8 a.m. – 9 a.m. ? Rosary after 12.45 and 5.45 Mass

St Andrew Dung-Lac & Comps: We commemorate Fr Andrew, a native Vietnamese priest horribly tortured before his beheading in 1839, and another 117 Catholics martyred in Vietnam in 16th-19th centuries. 96 were Vietnamese and 21 foreign missionaries. They included bishops, priests and lay people, many of whom suffered horrible deaths.

Thursday 25th November: FERIA. (Green). Optional memoria of St Catherine of Alexandria, Virgin & Martyr. (Red).

- Holy Hour 8 a.m. – 9 a.m. ? Rosary after 12.45 and 5.45 Mass

St Catherine of Alexandria (4th c.) She was a highly intelligent woman who was responsible for the conversion of several pagan philosophers. She was martyred on a spiked wheel at Alexandria in Egypt (the original Catherine Wheel) and according to legend, angels brought her body to be laid in a monastery named after her, at Mt Sinai.
